

Updated: Pre-Departure Covid test conditional exemptions for international commuters and crew

Jan 7th, 2021

Updated with new exemption letter from company & to highlight requirement to be in uniform

Please find attached the official information from the company regarding the new pre-departure COVID test requirements for those entering into Canada and how this will affect international commuters and crew.

Please take special note of the following:

- The conditions (work within 14 days & be in uniform) required to qualify for the exemption if you are an international commuter or deadheading;
- The suggestion to carry the quarantine exemption letter (attached below for your convenience).

The Local also suggests you carry a copy of the attached bulletin if you are deadheading or commuting internationally and be ready to show proof of work duties within 14 days if commuting.

If you run encounter issues with this new procedure please be sure to reach out to the Local so we can follow-up.
