

Local Meeting Date Change

Due to a conflict with the TCAT room, the date for the next local meeting has been changed. It will now take place on September 22, 2017. Please adjust your bids accordingly.

Tracking Your Own Sick Time

We often get questions about sick time usage. You can always track your sick time usage by reviewing your past monthly schedules on Globe or by checking your flight pay summaries under HR Connex. For your planned absence detail, a list of all book off and no shows, you can also contact one of the Crew Productivity Managers:

Labour Community Advocate Training Course starts September

The Labour Community Advocate Training Courses are wonderful opportunities to learn about helping your fellow worker when they are going through difficulties in their life. Open to union members from Toronto and York Region, the next round of Level 1 courses for Toronto Region begins September 20 and for York Region on September 21. Read more info about the courses online at labourcommunityservices.ca. For more info contact Najib at nsoufian@labourcommunityservices.ca.

Ask For Tax Fairness

Finance Minister Morneau has called for public consultations on his proposal to close tax loopholes that allow wealthy professionals to use private corporations to reduce the taxes they pay. The predictable push-back from those with the most to lose has started. Don't let vested interests scuttle this small but important step towards a fairer tax system. Tell him not to back down this time.

This happened last year when the Liberal finance minister bowed to opposition from CEOs of some of the largest corporations and went back on a campaign promise to close the stock option loophole. It gives a billion dollar tax break to the wealthiest 1%, while the government cries poor when it comes to essential programs like affordable housing. Please send a
